But seldom does anyone provide the specific “how to” guidance that educators and leaders can use to design and implement a genuinely transformational culture.

Monarch Academy Public Charter School built a transformative school culture through strategic choices, thoughtful reflection and the use of specific leadership tools. This powerful culture has produced an exemplary learning environment that cultivates success for all students and staff. This unique immersion experience provides two full days of active learning and engaging with the leaders and students of this amazing school.

Participants in this experience will be empowered to make strategic shifts in their own practice and equipped to design, implement and maintain a transformative school culture.
